Topic:

In today's connected environment, there are a number of ways to promote your business electronically and visually. The old adage, a picture says a thousand words, can really apply today in the digital age. Join us as Jerry Beerman and Alluring Glass host this month's membership meeting. Mark Werle from Werlegig Imaging will be joining us to discuss some of the latest media options for utilizing photography to highlight and market your remodeling projects. Today's use of web tools and mobile apps can be an economical and easy way to empower your clients to share images of their projects with their family and friends and drive more referrals to your business.

Food and Beverage:
