This film was shot entirely on location in Cincinnati & Dayton, and was a logistics feat because two massive kitchens were completely gutted and remodeled during the shooting of the film to coincide with the story's timeline. The movie shoot and the remodeling were completely finished in less than 3 weeks.

This just in: A Brand New Kitchen has been selected as a Finalist for Best Picture at the Burbank International Film Festival in California later this year. Don't miss your chance to say you saw it first!
